Dear Mr. Lederberg,

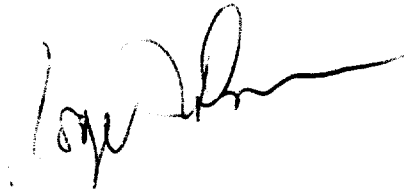

You are the first to bring to my attention the error of date on Gilpatric's speech--- it was Oct 21st, you are right.

If you were a Soviet intelligence man, that speech would have driven you up the wall at that time. And remember, it was reinforced by detailed briefings given to the NATO ~~xxxx~~ powers, some of whom, we knew, had been ~~x~~ penetrated by ~~xx~~ Soviet agents.

The point is that we were saying, "Look, we know what you have, and we have a second strike force that is larger than your first strike force."

Thank you for bringing the error to my attention.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Joseph P. Kamp", with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.
